

We provide personalized services to all our clients regardless of size or nature of the transaction.

We have depth and experience in a variety of issues and arenas.

We offer cost effective solutions tailored to our clients' needs.

Jackson Kelly's Financial Services industry group provides highly-skilled professionals who are used to working in an ever-changing environment. Whether advising or advocating, our attorneys regularly handle a variety of issues for entities both large and small.

Our group represents banking and financial institutions in claims involving contract disputes, torts, statutory violations, negligence, tortious interference, civil conspiracy, aiding and abetting, and regulatory and consumer compliance, among others.

This industry group has experience assisting clients in areas such as:

- Banking and finance
- Regulatory compliance
- Bankruptcy
- Class action and complex litigation
- Commercial lending
- Commercial litigation
- Commercial restructuring
- Mergers and acquisitions
- Municipal and tax-exempt bonds
- Public-private partnerships
- Securities regulation and corporate governance
- Tax