

Litigation

Jackson Kelly offers top notch representation in litigation, from administrative matters to jury trials to appellate advocacy. Our attorneys in the Litigation practice group operate a sophisticated litigation practice, adept at handling all aspects of litigation, including developing litigation avoidance strategies, conducting pretrial investigations and discovery, trial, and appellate work. Our attorneys participate in mediation, arbitration, and other alternative dispute resolution techniques. An experienced staff of legal and administrative assistants, nurses, and other personnel support our attorneys and our clients.

Our attorneys' breadth of experience and depth of capability enable them to represent clients across the nation in many areas, including:

- Alternative dispute resolution
- Asbestos
- Appellate
- Aviation litigation
- Business disputes
- Commercial
- Construction
- Deliberate intent
- Drug and medical devices
- Employment
- Environmental
- Government contracts
- Insurer bad faith
- Insurance coverage
- Intellectual property
- Legal professional liability
- Libel, slander, and first amendment
- Mass tort and class action litigation
- Medical and health care litigation
- Medical professional liability
- Municipal law matters
- Professional liability defense for architects, engineers, and other design professionals

- Products liability
- RICO matters
- Securities
- Significant disaster litigation
- Trucking
- White collar compliance and defense

Our attorneys are well respected and recognized for integrity, litigation skills, and success in trial. Many of our attorneys appear in The Best Lawyers in America®, are featured by Chambers USA in America's Leading Business Lawyers, and are named as Fellows of the distinguished American College of Trial Lawyers. Our attorneys are members of numerous trial advocacy associations; are officers of the Defense Research Institute, American Bar Association, Defense Trial Counsel of West Virginia, and State Bar Associations; serve on various committees; and include the past-President and other members of the exclusive Association of Defense Trial Attorneys.