Curtiss R. Boggs is an Associate practicing with the Litigation practice group, focusing on general litigation matters. He practices out of the Firm's office in Morgantown, West Virginia.

Curtiss earned his Juris Doctor, cum laude, from the College of William & Mary, Marshall-Wythe School of Law. While in law school, he was a Notes Editor for the Environmental Law and Policy Review, a member of the George Wythe Society, and elected Secretary of the Student Bar Association. Curtiss earned a Bachelor of Arts degree, summa cum laude, in political science and world languages (Spanish) from West Virginia University. He was an exchange student in Calama, Chile, and is a fluent Spanish speaker.

In his free time, Curtiss enjoys watching WVU sports, traveling, playing the guitar, and singing country music. Although he loves to travel, "Take Me Home Country Roads" has a literal meaning for Curtiss. He is a 10th generation West Virginian with his family first settling in what would become the state in 1758. By the way, the extra "s" in his first name is not a typo. Having taken his first solo flight at the age of 16, Curtiss is named after an airplane, The Curtiss Robin.
